

Paolo Andrea Colombo (Milan, 1960)

He received a degree in Business Economics from Bocconi University of Milan in 1984. He was a research fellow in Accounting and Financial Reporting at that university, where he is currently a Senior visiting professor. From 2006 to 2012, he was a Founding Member and Managing Director of Borghesi Colombo & Associati. Since 2012, he has been a Founding Member and a Director of Colombo & Associati, a corporate and financial consultancy firm, of which he was Chairman until June 2019. He was Chairman of Saipem, Chairman of Enel and sat on the Boards of Directors and on the Boards of Statutory Auditors of several industrial and financial companies, including ENI, Mediaset, Interbanca, Pirelli Pneumatici, RCS Quotidiani, Tim, Publitalia '80, Ansaldo STS, Stream, GE Capital Interbanca, Aviva Vita, Winterthur, Credit Suisse, Banca Intesa, Crédit Agricole Assicurazioni Italia, Techint Finanziaria, Alitalia and Montedison. He has been a Board Director of Intesa Sanpaolo since 2016.

February 2020