

Anna Gatti (Pavia, 1972)

A Board Director of Intesa Sanpaolo since 2019 and a member of the Board's Remuneration Committee.

She graduated in Business Economics from Bocconi University of Milan, where she received a PhD in Business Administration and Management. She continued her education at Stanford University in Palo Alto (Post-doctoral Program in Organizational Behavior) and at the University of Trento (PhD in Criminology) and in 2002 she worked as a research fellow at the University of California Berkeley.

From 2002 to 2004, she was a Senior Economist for the World Health Organization and, from 2004 to 2007, a partner of the Venture Capital Fund Myqube in Silicon Valley. From 2007 to 2012, she subsequently held the positions of Head of International Consumer Operations at Google, Head of International Online Sales and Operations and Head of Strategic Partnership Operations at YouTube, and Senior Director of Advertising and New Monetization at Skype/MSFT, at their respective Headquarters in Silicon Valley. In 2012, in San Francisco, she co-founded an Artificial Intelligence applied to big unstructured data start-up, which she headed as CEO until 2015. Subsequently, in Silicon Valley she has founded, with two professors from Stanford University, a company that applies artificial intelligence to brain imaging.

Since 2016 she has been working as an Angel Investor in Silicon Valley and since 2021 she has been Associate Professor of Practice of Digital Transformation at the Business Management School of the Bocconi University in Milan.

Starting from 2004 she gained extensive experience as a member of the board of directors of listed and not listed companies in various industrial sectors and markets (among others, Fiera Milano, Ray Way, Lastminute Group and Piquadro). She is a Board Director of WiZink Bank and Wizz Air. She is a member of the Italian Association of Professional Journalists.

July 2022