

Guglielmo Weber (Florence, 1958)

He graduated in Economics from the University of Siena and received a Master of Science in Econometrics and Mathematical Economics and a PhD in Economics from the London School of Economics in London. He was a lecturer at University College London from 1987 to 1992. In 1993, he became an Associate Professor at the Department of Economics of Ca' Foscari University of Venice. Since 1994, he has been a Full Professor of Econometrics at the University of Padua, where he has been Head (twice) of the Department of Economics and Management. He has been responsible for numerous research projects, funded by the Italian Ministry of Education, Universities and Research, the CNR (Italian National Research Council) and the European Commission. He is the author of several publications, mainly in international journals. The main focus of his research is the analysis of the economic consequences of patterns of population ageing and the study of possible solutions in terms of welfare policies and instruments. He was a Board Director of Intesa Sanpaolo Vita from 2007 to 2018 and Deputy Chairman of Intesa Sanpaolo Assicura from 2018 to May 2019.

May 2019