

INTESA SANPAOLO GROUP CONTRIBUTIONS

Intesa Sanpaolo a proactive role in regulatory processes, monitoring regulatory proposals (and, where appropriate, actively participating in related discussions through advocacy) for topics that may have a direct and indirect impact on the Group, particularly with regard to banking, financial and insurance legislation and the European ESG regulatory framework. In particular, advocacy work was carried out with regard to the initiatives reported in the metrics section on ESG issues (e.g., at the European level, some legislative initiatives related to the EU Green Deal strategy) and financial issues.

For all issues, including sustainable finance and direct environmental impacts, Intesa Sanpaolo cooperates with the relevant trade associations at all levels (national, European or international). For example, for sustainability aspects, there is ongoing collaboration with the Italian Banking Association (ABI) within specific working groups, to raise awareness in the financial and non-financial sectors on environmental sustainability topics and the forthcoming impact of regulatory developments, especially those on ESG disclosures.

* The Intesa Sanpaolo Group's internal policies provide that political parties and movements may not be recipients of donations and sponsorships, as set out in the Group's "Anticorruption Guidelines" in the section "Policies related to the prevention of corruption". Specific Group rules, in compliance with the Anti-Corruption Guidelines, clarify that the only form of credit facility in favour of political parties, affiliated associations and individual candidates — reserved to the competence of the Board of Directors — consists of the annual advance of the "2x1000 contribution", against the assignment, to be notified in accordance with the law, of the amounts due to the parties under this form of contribution. In this regard, it should be noted that in 2025 no cases of this kind were submitted to the Board of Directors of the Intesa Sanpaolo Group, therefore the Group did not grant any credit facilities in this area.
