

Intesa Sanpaolo is the main sponsor of Energethica 2012, Exhibition for the renewable and sustainable energy, from May 24 to May 26 at the Lingotto Fiere in Turin.

The exhibition and conference is the main event for those working in the renewable energy sector and is part of the initiatives provided by the Festival in Turin "Le città visibili – Torino Smart City" (Visible Cities - Turin Smart City).

The aim of Energethica Turin is to act as a meeting point among research, government and companies that share a common goal: to learn how to use materials, technologies and techniques in a sustainable way.

Intesa Sanpaolo will be present with a stand shared with the company Leasint to introduce "green" products including the new Leasenergy 20-200, Financing Renewable Energy and the portal IMPRES@MBIENTE.
