

Intesa Sanpaolo renews its adherence to the "European Week for Waste Reduction"

For the seventh year, Intesa Sanpaolo, adheres to this initiative promoted by the European Commission, that will take place from 17 to 25 November.

The theme chosen for the 2018 edition is "Hazardous Waste Prevention", those wastes containing harmful elements for the health of people and for the protection of the environment and animals.

The adherence to this "European Week" once again expresses the bank's commitment to support and raise awareness of a culture of sustainability and respect for the environment.

Intesa Sanpaolo promotes the following activities during the week:

- Tuesday, November 20 at the Intesa Sanpaolo Tower in Turin an Innovation Coffee, open to all colleagues, on the issue of proper management of waste. The bank will present the practices adopted in Intesa Sanpaolo and Amiat, a company that manages the collection and disposal service in Turin, will present a new App to guide citizens to the correct separation of waste;
- Promotion of the initiative on social channels and on ATM machines.

The Group's commitment to sustainable waste management is reported in the Consolidated Non-financial Statement.

In Intesa Sanpaolo, the production of hazardous waste is residual and limited to some electronic waste. The attention and commitment to the production of special, dangerous and non-hazardous waste has allowed in 2017 a reduction of the total quantity of 9.4% compared to 2016.

In general, 94.8% of waste is valued through recycling or reuse/recovery, only 3.6% of waste is disposed of in landfills and 1.6% is destined to incinerate with energy recovery.
